

Nady DKW-DUO Dual Channel VHF Hand-Held Microphone System

Write A Review

AVERAGE OF 61 USER RATINGS

CUSTOMER REVIEWS

Better than expected

Posted by Tom from st. joseph MI on Feb 28, 2010

Experience w/product: I own it

Reviewer's Background: Hobbyist

Reviewer's Play Style: rock

Was pleasantly surprised by how well this worked for the price. I used it for a grade school talent show, and it survived many practices and two shows with grade school kids using them That says alot. Never had any dropped signals or any other issues.

Impressive so far!

Posted by JV1 from Philly Burbs on Feb 24, 2010

Experience w/product: I own it

Reviewer's Background: Pro Weekend DJ/Karaoke

Reviewer's Play Style: requests!

Two wireless mics for so little?!?! I didn't think these could be good but they seem to be. I own 5 other Shure SM58 wireless mic systems but one of them recently broke and I was tired of getting it fixed for over $100, so I bought these. I tested them in the house with a small PA setup (Roland Cube) and then went outside and strolled down the street and at all times I was telling my wife how far away I was. She said she could hear me loud and clear the entire distance of about 150 feet away. Build quality is excellent and comparable to the Shures though lighter in weight which I hope is a bonus rather than a indication of weakness. I'll soon be testing these at a DJ gig.... And I noticed they don't feed back much and still have a nice full sound to them. I just hope they prove to be road-worthy but at this price they are almost disposable. I've found Nady products to be hit or miss, I think I hit on this one.

AWESOME!!!!!!!!!!!!

Posted by emmaus vanderbilt from gastonia on Feb 10, 2010

Experience w/product: I own it

Reviewer's Background: d.j.

Reviewer's Play Style: christian

i am a nine year old d.j. and i bought these mics' on black friday. after that i went out to my mom's farm. i took one of the mic's and went about 40 feet away from the reciver. IT WORKED!!! then i let my little brother and sister play "weather station" with them. it as almost as good as voco-pro. you should buy this product!!!!!!!!!!!!

Unbeliveable Value

Posted by Memphis Mike from Tennessee on Feb 3, 2010

Experience w/product: I own it

Reviewer's Background: Karaoke DJ

Reviewer's Play Style: All

Just bought these mics for karaoke and I must say they are much more than I expected! Sound is better than my peavy wired mics and feedback is non existant. I am very suprised that these are so affordable. Nady has impressed me! The ouality of build is as good as some of the high dollar wireless sets I have performed with. If you want a good entry level wireless set for low bucks jump on these you wont be dissapointed!

Better then Expected

Posted by MKC from Cumming, GA on Jan 13, 2010

Experience w/product: I own it

Reviewer's Background: Amatuer

Reviewer's Play Style: None. I just record

I bought this for my basement studio and just thought that the sound would be ok and and from reviews, bad quaility. I was suprised that the sound was good and the range is excellant. I can have the reciever in my basement, and walk to the stop sign at the end of our road and it never lost the signal. The only con is that when you talk loud, a humming sound kind of follows your voice. The quaility is actually pretty good. It feels just a little cheap but it's not to bad. The battery cover feels pretty strong. From other reviews I thought that the battery cover would be really thin a low quality, actually, it fells strong. I would definitely recomend this to a friend!